KEYMACRO is a program that allows you to convert your frequently used computer keys (as in 'Win', 'Alt' and 'Ctrl') into macros. KEYMACRO is packed with many useful features and, especially, it is a reliable helper when you are the person who has to type a lot. You can create macros for any combination of keys and make your work easier. To set a key as a macro, you can assign a shortcut key to it and use it when you wish. Not only you can use the current key or a new key assigned to the program, but you can also choose whether the new key should be invoked in a normal mode or in a special mode. KEYMACRO has many keys on its menu, such as 'Back', 'Ctrl', 'Alt', 'F1', 'F2', 'F3', 'F4', 'F5', 'F6', 'F7', 'F8', 'F9', 'F10', 'F11', 'F12', 'Help' and 'New'. When you assign a key combination to the 'New' key, you have the chance to create a new key that is invoked in a special mode. To help you a bit, the program offers a list of most used commands for you to choose from and those not listed are supported in a very general way. There are also two sections for the keys you can use. One of them is dedicated to the ones used the most while the other one contains all the keys the program recognizes.
